Bill To Grant Citizenship To U. S. Issei Goes To Senate, May Be Passed Within Few Days

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Judiciary Committee last week in a last-minute flurry of business reported on the Walter Resolution unanimously, paving the way for possible Senate action on the measure before Congress adjourns, according to the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee.

In the present rush by Congress to close, it is not yet known whether the Senate will find time to vote upon a bill to give naturalization rights to all legal immigrants. Approximately 95,000 Asian, and south Pacific island peoples, roughly 97 percent of whom are Japanese, living in the United States and Hawaii would be affected by the act.

If Congress remains in session another few days, informed Washington sources say it is possible the bill will be acted on.

Little if any opposition towards it has been apparent since it first passed the House June 6. There is every indication that if the measure comes up on the Senate calendar, it will be approved and sent to the president for his signature.

It should be signed promptly. President Truman twice has called for such legislation in his civil rights program.

Mike Masaoka, national JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee legislative director, said the long-

Browsing around in the magazine section of the local drug store, I happened to look at a pocket-book which looked promising. Emblazoned on the cover were the words, "He learned he was a Negro—could he tell his boss, his friends, his woman?" 'Nuff said, I thought, and bought the book.

A best-seller of several years back and written by Sinclair Lewis, one of America's foremost writers of our times, "Kingsblood Royal" has probably been mulled over by many a critic. Sinclair Lewis writes with a biting pen, laying bare the festering wounds that have been the Negro's lot. Its theme is powerful, it is a story of a man who could have passed as a white but decided he'd rather be a Negro.

The locale is not in the Deep South where Negros are treated open-handedly as inferior beings but in the Middle-West where there is a fierce and latent resentment against the Negro (as told by Lewis). Grand Republic, Minnesota, is a typical village hamlet of 90,000 with a small, subservient Negro population.

Chief Abbot Otani Arriving on Goodwill Tour

Chief Abbot Kocho Otani, archbishop of the Higashi Hongwangi Temple of Tokyo, is heading a group of Buddhist dignitaries arriving in Toronto on the night of Friday, Oct. 21 for a two-day visit here. On a goodwill tour of the United States and Canada, he is accompanied by his wife, Lady Satoko, who is the younger sister of Empress Nagako.

The Chief Abbot is the highest Buddhist official ever to visit Canada from Japan.

Other members of the party are Bishop Genyu Nagatani, Bishop Shoshin Fukushima, Rev. Yuki Izuhara, a priestess and Rev. Gyomay Kubose of the Chicago Buddhist Church.

As a part of the goodwill mission, the visitors are thanking the people of the United States and Canada for their generous aid, especially for their contributions through the organized relief agencies. They are also studying the way of life here, with specific stress on religious activities, thought and organizations.

The party arrived in the United States on Sept. 27 after a two weeks' visit in Hawaii and have toured the U. S. west coast, the northwest, Rocky Mountain and midwest areas prior to arriving in Toronto. Canada was not included in the original itinerary, however the visit to Toronto was arranged at the request of the local Buddhist Church.

VISIT TO WHITE HOUSE

From here, they will proceed to New York and then to Washington where they will pay their respects to President Truman. They are returning to Japan in mid-November.

On the morning of Oct. 22, they will visit the City Hall and call on Mayor Hiram McCallum. Chief Abbot Otani will place a wreath at the Cenotaph.

He will give a public lecture at the Ma[illegible] Theatre in the afternoon at 2 p.m. A banquet will be tendered in honor of the group at the King Edward Hotel at 5 p.m.

The following morning, they will be taken on a short sightseeing tour, then to a luncheon sponsored by the Bussei[illegible]. At 1 p.m. a special service is to be held at the Canadian Legion Auditorium, and at 3 p.m., the party will leave for Niagara Falls.

The entire program is being arranged by the Toronto Bukkyokai, Fujinkai, YBS, and the Asoka Society.

300 View Exhibition Of Japan News Shots Held By New Canadian

Approximately 300 persons saw the display of nearly 200 pictures taken by Tokyo Asahi news cameramen during the past year and a half at the Church of All Nations on Oct. 15. The exhibit was sponsored jointly by The New Canadian and the Toronto JCCA Issei Division.

The pictures were secured from the Tokyo Asahi Newspaper for The New Canadian through the efforts of Messrs. Imazawa and K. Tsuyuki. They will be sent to various Japanese centres across Canada for display purposes.

All recent major events in Japan are depicted by the photographs many of which are life size.

U. S. Nisei Regains Citizenship Rights

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — A Nisei who served in the Japanese army has been reported to have regained his American citizenship status.

He is Katsumi Mayemura, who was stranded in Japan during the war. Mayemura recently applied for a passport at the U. S. Consulate at Yokohama, but was refused because he had served in the Japanese army.

The Nisei said he had served "under protest" at the Japanese military police station in Kyushu.

Winnipeg Nisei Enters Notre Dame University

WINNIPEG. — Hirokazu Morita, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Morita of Winnipeg, is now attending Notre Dame University at South Bend, Indiana.

He graduated from his masters course in Science at the Manitoba University last August and went to Notre Dame in the middle of Sept. He is tutoring students while continuing his studies there.

His brother, Saburo, has advanced to fourth year in Engineering at the University of Manitoba. He is attending the University on his scholarship.

Sessue Hayakawa Arrives In Tokyo

TOKYO. — Noted Hollywood film star of silent picture days, Sessue Hayakawa, 61, arrived at the Haneda Airport on Oct. 1. He met his family after an absence of 13 years when he left Japan in 1936.

Hayakawa who lived in Paris while it was under Nazi dominance but went to the United States after the war, stated that he was going to make a movie in Japan.

He may call it "Tojin Okichi" or "Hiroshima" but he would like to see a production of the Japanese-Americans.

Judge Refuses Bail For Mrs. d'Aquino

SAN FRANCISCO. — Mrs. Iva Toguri d'Aquino, convicted by jury on one count of treason on Sept. 29 was denied freedom on bail last week pending action on her appeal.

U. S. Judge Michael J. Roche, who heard the long trial of the California-born woman, listened to arguments of opposing counsel on the bail motion. Then he turned down the request.

Mrs. d'Aquino, who has become known as "Tokyo Rose" was taken back to jail.

Wayne M. Collins, her attorney, said he planned to carry the bail plea to the Court of Appeals.

Masaoka to Address JCCA Meeting

The Nisei whom a Reader's Digest article described as "Washington's Most Successful Lobbyist," is coming to Toronto. He is Mike Masaoka, Legislative Director of the Japanese American Citizens League Anti-Discrimination Committee.

Accompanied by his wife, Etsu, and Edward J. Ennis, legal counsel for Japanese American claimants, he is making the trip to Toronto to get a first-hand picture of the evacuation claims situation here. He together with Mr. Ennis will confer with the group here to exchange information.

"Regarded as a novelty at first, more and more influential and prominent ears in the nation's capital now perk up and listen to what Mike has to say. To them he has become the 'Voice' of the people of Japanese ancestry living in this country. Eloquent, energetic, determined and persistent, Mike has made his presence known; he has made Washingtonians aware of the Japanese Americans and their particular legislative wants.

"So effectively has the former University of Utah salutatorian presented the case of the Japanese Americans to the nation's legislature that within less than a year since he made his first official appearance in Washington, he has been offered several high-paying positions—as high as $1,000 a month—by other lobbying groups. Though it meant [illegible] suicide, compared to what he is getting now, Mike turned them down with thanks, preferring rather to stick with his present task—a combination of watchdog and crusader of Nisei rights.

"Never before in U. S. history has the rights and privileges of persons of Japanese ancestry in this country won such favorable consideration of the Congress within such a short period of time—a fact which in itself constitutes a great tribute and effective testimony of Masaoka's work in Washington."

Mike is a veteran of World War II. He was the first to volunteer for the 442nd Regimental Combat Team and has won several awards. He served as Public Relations Officer.

In 194[illegible] he was named "Citizen of the Community" by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Salt Lake City and in the same year he was selected as the outstanding Japanese American in the United States. The following year, he became the national secretary and field executive of the JACL.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS

This weekend will see a flurry of activity in the Toronto Japanese community.

From Japan, as emissaries of goodwill come a party of high Buddhist officials headed by Chief Abbot Kocho Otani and his wife who is the younger sister of the Empress of Japan. They are on a mission to express gratitude for the assistance given their country since the conclusion of the war by the people of Canada and the United States.

Toronto will also welcome an outstanding American Nisei from Washington in Mike Masaoka, the legislative director of the Japanese American Citizens League Anti-Discrimination Committee.

While the Canadian Nisei is none too familiar with Japanese American personalities, Mike Masaoka is an exception. We are well aware of his outstanding service in behalf of Japanese Americans. The consideration that the American Congress has given to a bill which would grant citizenship to the American Issei recently, is yet another token of his brilliant achievement in Washington.

While in their brief sojourn in the Dominion, they will only visit Toronto, we are happy to welcome these visitors to our country.

awaited action by the Judiciary "greatly enhances the possibility the bill will become law."

The Resolution originally was introduced by Rep. Francis E. Walter, (D., Pa.), at the request of the ADC when it became apparent earlier this year that the Judd bill granting naturalization and immigration rights to those nationals and nations barred from both, would not be reported out of the Judiciary Committee despite passage by the House early last spring.

The Resolution was brought up in the Judiciary despite the absence of its chairman, Sen. Pat McCarron, (D., Nev.), who is traveling in Europe. Sen. McCarron has indicated a number of times that he is favorably inclined towards the Walter Resolution.

Hopes of passage of the act this year hinge upon whether or not the Upper House remains in session long enough to take action.

Mr. Masaoka said "We of Japanese ancestry extend our heartfelt gratitude to persons of broad vision and generous action who have made a last-minute effort to see that justice is extended Asian and Pacific Island immigrants in the United States.

If it passes, Mr. Masaoka said the Walter Resolution will "wipe out a racist concept of who may become an American citizen—a concept that has been on this nation's statutes since the first Congress met."

particularly care for the lazy "coons" in Grand Republic. But when he found out that one of his ancestors was a full-blooded Negro and as a result one-thirty second of his circulatory system was "contaminated" by the dark blood of African origin, he was shocked.

Colored Neil Kingsblood soon found himself debating whether he should keep this dark secret to himself and keep intact his position in the bank, the security of his wife and blond daughter.

He learned how the members of the Negro community lived and soon became attached to them. Revelation of the color of his bloodstream soon made him realize the true nature of the people of Grand Republic, the thin veneer of hypocrisy under which they operated.

His best friends turned against him, he lost his position at the bank and spent many a weary day in search of a job. He got threatening notes from anonymous senders and at the climax, the "nigger-baiting" populace of the town stormed his home in an effort to drive him out of town.

The undercurrent of internal conflict was most interesting to me. Whether he should continue to pass as a white or reveal his Negro blood was his problem. That he decided to become a Negro despite the fact that that decision would change his entire life provided impact to the novel. To suffer the indignities of being a Negro in spirit as well as in blood was better than to remain among the number of whites who called down the dirty "mopes" and "coons" although those name-callers were numbered among his best friends.

But what is incomprehensible to me is that he should be branded as a Negro although only one-thirty second of his blood was "black." He had blue eyes, red hair—yet he was Negro. If a man had say Scotch, Mexican, French ancestors but also an infinitesimal drop of Negro blood, he is promptly a Negro. That's a paradox.

The attitude to the Negro in the North and Deep South seems to be entirely different. In the South he is hounded from birth, is segregated and walks in the fear of death. In the North, however, he lives under the resentment of the whites, but is attacked in a much more subtle manner than the Jim Crow "For Whites Only" of the South.

Your Legal Problems

Questions About Property

Question: I am buying a house, and I am told that the property is worth $9,200.00. What is the best way to have this value checked, and who can do it?

Answer: Property values are made by supply and demand, and prices are high now because of demand. The best and safest way to insure that you are not paying too much is to have the property evaluated, before you sign the offer to purchase, by an independent person such as your solicitor. The agent who is selling the house cannot always give you a fair idea of the value because he wants to sell the house to you.

Question: I am buying a house and I am asked by the agent to pay 5½% interest on the first mortgage, and 7% interest on the second mortgage which is being taken by the vendor. Are these rates of interest prevailing?

Answer: No, definitely not. The prevailing rate of interest on first mortgages is 5%, unless the house is very old and not in very good condition. The prevailing rate of interest on second mortgages where the vendor is taking it back is 5½ to 6%. If the second mortgage is being taken by a person other than the vendor the usual rate is 10% to 12%, or 5% with a discount of 15% (which makes the rate equivalent to 12%). The payments of principal prevailing are $50 to $75 quarterly on first and second mortgages.

THE WEEKLY HABIT

By TOYO TAKATA

A letter arrived from our seafaring friend in the Navy, Lanky Inouye, the first Nisei to be taken into the Canadian Navy. He is now a full-fledged seaman and is now stationed at Halifax, N. S. Of Halifax, our Nisei in bell bottoms says it's a fish dump, reeking of fish right on the main drag, and he compares the "dump" with the worst part of Toronto.

But he says the people are much more friendly than those in Ontario. He suggests that perhaps this may be attributed to the so-called blue blood they are supposed to possess.

He goes on further to say that he ran into a Nisei at Cornwallis by the name of Kobayashi from Kelowna who is taking the training preparatory to entering the Navy. He was told by this fellow that there are three others also going through the New Entry training.

It's a small world for he tells us that he met a sailor who knew us. Sure, he used to sit right in front of us in the same class and now it can be told that we used to copy each other's homework. He flunked in first-year high and he joined the navy. It's the first time we heard of his whereabouts since we were evacuated.

Then there's another letter, this from a girl in Chicago whom we met during our brief, hectic jaunt to that city. She asks us not to judge the U. S. Nisei girls from the group we met during our short visit. We're disappointed because we hoped to meet others like them.

All Sunday afternoon and evening, we worked on the Ontario JCCA bulletin. We don't like giving up our day off no more than anybody else, we'd rather relax but reluctantly we turned out to give a hand. But, after turning out, it wasn't as bad as we thought.

That's because everybody there, nearly a dozen of us, pitched in to work. It's a funny thing about work of this sort; it doesn't seem like work when everybody pulls together and carries on as a team.

While we don't turn out very often for extra-activity duties, we know quite a number of people who do. They are the small nucleus of every organization who shoulder the brunt of the work. It is to these groups that all clubs owe their existence. And no matter what type of club is involved, religious, sports, political etc., the same is true.

And it is the complaint of all organizations that too few members have to do all the work.

One morning, we were stopped on a street corner by a middle-aged derelict who put the bite on us. Though we don't consider ourselves as Scrooges, we don't believe in contributing to the spiritual welfare of fugitives from Alcoholics Anonymous, so, as usual, we spurned him.

Out of newsman's curiosity, we followed him at an unnoticeable distance. He stopped seven others, his selections seemed at random without any prejudice with the exception that he only stopped males and he avoided characters who resembled himself. He was unsuccessful in all seven cases, seemed like a bad day for the reprobate.

Despaired of his failures, and probably cursing all humanity, he loitered in front of a decrepit licensed dispensary and entered. We didn't follow any further.

THE TRIAL OF TOKYO ROSE

The "Tokyo Rose" treason trial is over, its Nisei defendant, Iva Toguri d'Aquino, adjudged guilty of betraying her native United States.

The facts in the trial were simple, the implications more complex.

Iva Toguri, a graduate of UCLA, went to Japan in July, 1941, to be with her ailing aunt. She had a six-month permit and a certificate of identity in lieu of a passport.

When, in November, war seemed imminent, she tried to return to the United States. She could not get home. War came Dec. 7.

She was unable to speak Japanese. She worked as a typist and monitor at the Domei news agency and as a typist for the Danish legation and Radio Tokyo, center of wartime Japan's radio propaganda network. It was at Domei that she met Felipe J. d'Aquino, a Portuguese national, whom she married in April 1945.

In November of 1943 she went on the air for Radio Tokyo as a disc jockey for the Zero Hour program. She was known as "Orphan Ann."

It was on this program, the government said, that she broadcast inflammatory statements to American and allied troops in the South Pacific to lower their morale.

After war's end she was arrested and held in jail for almost a year. She was released Oct. 25, 1946, after investigation.

In August, 1948, she was re-arrested and taken to San Francisco for trial. She was indicted by the grand jury on eight overt acts of treason.

Her trial began on July 5, the day after she became 33 years old.

On Sept. 29 the jury found her guilty on one count. Seven days later Judge [illegible] pronounced sentence.

There were a number of disturbing implications in the "Tokyo Rose" trial.

One facet of the [illegible] —was watched with [illegible] interest by Japanese Americans and others who felt that the treason trial of a Nisei might revive latent racial prejudices.

Some groups, like the Council for Civic Unity, [illegible] protesting holding of the trial in San Francisco, [illegible] have disastrous repercussions in this city and neighboring communities.

These fears proved to be groundless. After the first few days it became apparent that the trial of this particular Nisei [illegible]

崩れる長崎市街
はじめての原爆行

この二日後には追つかけて長崎爆撃だ。こんどは四機。長崎の空は廣島と異なり全くの快晴だつた。長崎港の入口で日本戦闘機廿七機の抵抗に遭い廿機を落したようであつた。上部機銃手が右足に四發も食つたがガン張つていた。尾部機銃手も負傷した。工場地帶から市街にかゝるころ爆彈が機から離れて行つた。パッと上る純白の噴煙―原子雲がまるく大きく擴つて行つて機上では音も衝動も感じなかつた原子雲の噴煙を目ざして機は下降して行く。下からも空からも何の應酬もない。高度を五千まで下げてさらに一周する。工場地帶の八〇パーセントと市街の七〇パーセントが火を噴いて崩れているように思つた。その中を人々がうごめいているのが手に取るように見える。二周目をおわつた機は機首をめぐらせた

割切れぬ悲しみ

かたきに出會つて自分と同じ人間を射殺したあと、たとえそれが正義であつても人間としての悲哀を感じないだろうか?いまでも私の心はわりきれない。どうしてあんなことになり、なぜあんなことをしなければならなかつたかと、戰爭自体がのろわしい

スキナ河方面の現狀（上）

今年の鮭漁は第一區一般が不漁であつた。しか し戰前と異り魚價がよいために一般漁者には相當の收入になつて居ると思われる。サカイ、コーホー三ケ月のシーズンで勞金最高が二千三百弗、最低で一千二百弗位かと思われる。

私共一行は去る六月中旬スキーナ河の現場に赴いたのであるが、同業者たる白、土人に久方ぶりで會う時の樣子や如何にと見護したところ、豫想外の歡迎を受けて、心から喜んだことであつた。戰前に知る白、土人は私共の姿を見るや我れがちに集まり來たり我れも／＼と手を差しのばして握手してくれた。ただその中にも、これまでもよくあつた部類の、何人にも餘り好まれない人と大体に於て無教育である白、土の混血兒等のうちに、二、三の「日系漁者の再出現」を餘りに喜ばない少數の人員があつたように聞かされたが、私自身はそのような人物には出會わなかつた。

大体から見て一般漁者の氣分は戰前よりも好いようにも思われる。彼等は戰争中豫想外の金儲けをして、彼等の好むところのスピードボートも手に入れ、家庭内にも相當の家具等を仕入れ、先ず人間並みの生活が出來得るようになつたことによつて、自然落ち着きが出來たのだと言つても差支えないと思われる。

何れにしても漁者等は日系漁者の復活に同情の目を向けて居ることが見受けられるが、各會社側の樣子には非常に疑われる點があるようにも思われる。それは去る一九四二年以來、白土青年漁者が相當の魚をとるようになつて居る今日、或るキャナリー業者は「先ず今のところ日系漁者でなくとも白土漁者にも相當優秀なのが出來上つて居り、これで先ず十分だ」という樣な氣持から、日系漁者を餘り歡迎していないキャナリーもあるように見受けられる。これは來年度出漁しようと思う人々に參考のため一言しておく次第である。（荒川生）

千曲生

見渡す山の秋景色
高嶺は風に紅葉を散らす
麓は照る陽に木の實をさらす
見渡す山の秋景色

いつも秋になると信州の山里で子供の頃うたつた此の歌を口ずさんでは、信州の山の秋景色を懐しく思い出し「秋はよいナー」と考えることであるが、今年も又窓から見る楓々の葉が日々に色づいてゆくのを見ながら、同じ思い出にふけつて居る時、ワイさんから電話で「紅葉を見に連れて行こう」との誘いを受け早速お伴をした。

同行七人、ワイさんのドライヴで此の大都會の眞中では夢にも考えられない紅葉狩りにと出かけたのであつた。行く先はモントリオルから北に七十哩を隔つたセントアガス方面であつた。

自動車は恰も磨き上げたトイシの上を行く樣に滑らかに走つているうちに、いつか道の兩側の雜木林には緑にまじつて眞紅にもえた紅葉がぱつぱつ見えてきた。首を右にまわし左に廻して歡聲をあげつつ行く程に紅葉は益々多くなり、さながら錦をひろげた樣な中を車は進み進んで遂にローレンシャンの山に入る。

左右の山々は愈々色濃くもえた一面の紅葉、その美觀は言語に絶す。谷を縫つて進めば道は紅葉の山にゆきつまりかと見えながら忽ち開けて濃藍をたゝえた湖に出る。

湖岸にはホテルあり別莊あり色とり／＼に建てられたせいしやな文化住宅が點々と並ぶ。湖上には乘り捨てたボートが數隻浮かんでいる樣。ただ一幅の畫である。

更に北上すれば、それこそ近代式の立派なサナトリアムあり、病める若き友を訪れて暫しを語り歸途につく。折柄時雨に洗われた紅葉に雨後の夕陽が美しく照りはえていた。

歸宅後の今もなお、あの美しい景色が目の前にハッキリと見えて居る。

今まではピーシーが景色がよいとばかり考えていた自分であつたが、このモントリオルと云う大都會を距ること僅か數十哩の處にこうした比類ない紅葉の名所のある事を知つて、今までの考えを訂正しなくてはならなくなつて來た。諸君も一度はあの美しい紅葉を觀賞されるようおすゝめするものである。

【ワシントン發】重大事態となつて來た米國の製鐵就働者のストライキ解決のためにトルーマン大統領も今週あたり乗り出して先ず製鐵業者と勞働組合代表をホワイトハウスに招致して會議を行うことになる模様である。十月一日から始まつた製鐵就働者のストライキのほか炭坑夫の罷休もあるのに今週月曜日からはピッツバーグのアルミニューム就働者一万六千人もストライキを開始して今や罷休者數百万人となり、これが十一月一日まで續けば失職者二百万、十二月一日まで續行すれば五百万に達するだろうと見られている。ストライキの主要原因は何れの場合も「養老年金を會社側が負擔せよ」と組合側で要求しているのを資本家側で拒否していることからである。

Fort William Nisei Baseball Club Concludes Successful Season With Presentation Banquet

FORT WILLIAM, Ont. — The Fort William Nisei Baseball Club held its second annual banquet on Oct. 10 in the Ortona Legion Hall. The occasion was in honor of both the Nisei Baseball League and the Nisei entry in the Lakehead Senior Baseball League.

Paul Oda was the chairman for the evening, introducing the guests of honor and conducting the ceremonies for the presentation of trophies.

The Nisei League playoff trophy went to the Satchmos nine. Frank Oda presented the challenge trophy to Frank Hoshizaki, the manager of the Satchmos. The Al. Pettit trophy was also presented to them for the league championship.

Individual trophy winners were Dick Mitsunaga and Muts Baba. Dick was presented with the Chicken Coop trophy for the leading batter on the Nisei team in the Lakehead League by Sue Mitsunaga. Mr. K. Seki presented the Main Line Diner trophy to Muts Baba for batting honors in the Nisei League.

Bill Okada, manager of the Nisei Senior team and an umpire in the Nisei League, Frank Oda and George Iwasa, scorekeepers, and Mamoru Hayashi, mascot, were all presented with a gift in appreciation for their services.

Following the supper, a short program of community singing was enjoyed. Sue Mitsunaga sang a Japanese solo and dancing completed the evening's entertainment.

Hockey Meeting

For the purpose of planning for the coming winter, the Toronto Nisei Hockey League is holding its organizational meeting at 43 Murray St., on Sunday, Oct. 23 at 2 p.m. The league will be reactivated, and will map out this year's program, as well as discuss the availability of ice surface.

Managers of last year's teams and representatives from prospective teams are requested to attend.

ACCENTS ON SPORTS

See where Lefty O'doul and his San Francisco Seals are getting a tremendous reception in Japan having landed in Tokyo three days ago. The squad consists of 20 players and are expected to play ten or more games each drawing about 50,000 fans. We are wondering what the Seal players will say to the umps when they don't like their calls. This is one time not knowing English will be an asset.

We often wonder why Japan took to baseball as it did and not to soccer, basketball or any other sport. They are crazier about the game th[an] the Americans themselves. It's reported that a crowd of 10,000 actually turned out to watch the San Francisco Seals practice.

Rabbit Maranville, former infield star of the Boston Braves, in a sport article showed how much the Japanese loved baseball in an article a way back. He made a trip with a team of major league stars to Japan, and the night before a game there was a heavy downpour which threatened to cancel the next afternoon's game. Yet the people were already lined up with coats and umbrellas hours before game time in order to assure themselves of getting in.

At Haneda airport, the Seals were greeted by 300 Japanese photographers and newsmen. O'doul was handed a bouquet by kimono-clad Japanese actress Kinuyo Tanaka as he stepped off the plane.

People were lined along the streets of Ginza as the ball club paraded down in automobiles. This was the biggest reception for foreign visitors since the war.

Tickets selling at 300 yen are being offered by scalpers at 1,500 yen.

The last time a professional American ball team toured Japan was back in 1934 and that was the time when Sawamura held the American Leaguers to three hits but one of them was a home-run that cost him a 1-0 game. The crowd roared when he struck out Babe Ruth. Pitching for the Americans, we believe it was Lefty Grove.

Sawamura was the speedball hurler who came to Vancouver with the Tokyo Giants. He was killed in the war.

One writer in Japan, Sgt. Dick Harn, former Chicago White Sox pitcher, who has seen a lot of Japanese baseball, predicts that the Seals aren't going to have any pushovers. He says that the calibre of Japanese baseball has vastly improved and that the barnstorming Americans are going to be impressed with the brand of ball they will come up against.

Top Spot Deadlocked, Izumi Hits Best Score

HAMILTON. — The youthful Pinsmashers team retained first place in the Hamilton Nisei Bowling League by defeating last week's co-leaders, Sid Yagichi's, 3-1.

Sobel's Clothes Ltd. blanked Ozzie's 4-0 to climb into a tie for first place with the Pinsmashers at 17 points each. Big gun for the Clothiers was Tom Kondo with 711-280.

Star-Lite Lunch and Solly's split 2-2. George Masuda turned in the best score for Star-Lite with 693-295 and Mits Honda bowled 657-256 for Solly's.

Mike Honda's Strikers beat Jack Kondo's 3-1 as Tats Tanaka hit 767-303 for the winners.

Herb Izumi came up with a terrific 842-319 to lead Yosh Tonogai's five in blanking Kim Takeda's.

Lethbridge Bowling

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. — A general meeting of the Lethbridge Nisei Bowling League will be called very shortly. The loop is expected to be a little late in forming this year because of the long sugar beet season.

A mixed major league of boys and girls may be formed this year as ten new alleys are reserved for this purpose. Regardless of when the meeting is to be called, every person who wishes to join the league must attend. The meeting is to be held at the YMCA soon and the main item will be the election of officers for the coming year.

WESTERNS FUND REPORT

More than $830 has been realized by the Westerns Baseball Club Fund Drive which was recently completed, reports Harry Miyasaki, in charge of the financial campaign.

least, would arouse little if any public antagonism. Indeed, the atmosphere in and around the courtroom was predominantly sympathetic.

There were however, the inevitable traces of racism, some of them obvious, some evident only to the hypersensitive.

ALL WHITE JURY

The jury was an all-white jury. It was picked in record time, but government challenges were directed only against persons of minority ancestry. Four Negroes and one person each of Chinese and Filipino descent were challenged by Prosecutor De Wolfe.

The witnesses for both defense and prosecution were of many ancestries but predominantly of Japanese and Anglo-Saxon descent. As Herb Caen, San Francisco Chronicle columnist, pointed out, they were segregated into "white" and "Japanese" witness rooms.

There was, undisputably, the circumstance of her American citizenship.

Throughout the war Mrs. d'Aquino clung to the American citizenship she acquired upon birth.

Had she given in to social and police pressure in Japan to renounce it, she could not have been tried as a traitor.

Yet, the key witnesses against her were Nisei resident in Japan, who during the war had given up their American nationality to take on the more convenient Japanese citizenship. On the stand a number of them testified that they had given in to pressure and renounced their American citizenship during the war.

These were the witnesses the government used in its case against Mrs. d'Aquino. These were the witnesses who testified to the overt acts and to the single act upon which she was convicted.

HELPED POW'S

With the protective coloring of Japanese citizenship, Mrs. d'Aquino could have escaped trial and conviction as a betrayer of the United States.

There was additionally the testimony by numerous witnesses that she supplied, over a long period of time, food, medicine and other supplies for American and allied prisoners of war in Japan. These supplies were passed on to the prisoners by two POW's who worked with her at Radio Tokyo.

This testimony the government never attempted to disprove. The defense had hoped that this, coupled with testimony that she adhered to her American citizenship, could disprove any intent to commit treason.

There is a final inconsistency in the "Tokyo Rose" trial, a question of citizenship.

Under the Nationality act of 1940, an American citizen is considered to have lost his citizenship [illegible] among other things [illegible] government, [illegible] served in a foreign army, or [illegible] voted in a foreign election.

K. G.

Iva Toguri d'Aquino in effect worked for the Japanese government but the State department allowed her trial as an American citizen.

The State department, however, has consistently denied the American citizenship of other Nisei who did far less than the things with which Mrs. d'Aquino was charged. These other Nisei have been denied American passports to come home. The State department has elected not to recognize their right to American nationality.

Some Nisei will feel a slight tugging at the back of their minds—could it have been I?

Others argue that the defendant's guilt lies in the fact that she appeared on the air, whether or not the statements she made were treasonable. No person with political conviction, they say, would have allowed himself to get into the situation of going on the air for Radio Tokyo.

But it is hard to imagine what [illegible] do oneself, caught in [illegible] nation during the war. [illegible] possible that here again, hindsight proves more acute than [illegible].
